INVITATION

Dear colleagues,

The Asia Pacific Congress in Maternal Fetal Medicine is a joint initiation by the Department of Obstetrics and Gynaecology, The Chinese University of Hong Kong and the Fetal Medicine Foundation, the United Kingdom. Over the last decade, there have been much exciting development and breakthrough in this branch of medicine, in particular on early screening of fetal chromosomal abnormalities, early diagnosis of fetal structural abnormalities, non-invasive prenatal diagnostic methods, fetal therapies as well as the elucidation of genetic and molecular basis of many obstetric complications. However, Maternal Fetal Medicine in Asia is still at its developing stage. Thus, the objectives of the Asia Pacific Congress in Maternal Fetal Medicine are to establish a forum and communications between colleagues in this region and experts in this field, to facilitate the dissemination of new knowledge and technologies, and ultimately to benefit the unborn babies and the general public in the region.

For the first inaugural meeting held in October 2005, we have invited a large panel of internationally renowned experts. The program covered a wide range of important topics in Maternal Fetal Medicine. More than 300 participants shared their clinical experiences and research findings with others. The meeting was a great success. The second meeting will be held in 2006 in Guangzhou, a model Chinese city with more than 2000 years of history. We promise you an excellent scientific program, including the latest development in the subspecialty. Again, there will be a large panel of international renowned speakers, and more speakers from the region will be invited this year. We encourage all of you to submit abstracts of your work, and to share your experiences with other colleagues from the world.

We are looking forward to seeing you all in Guangzhou.
